

Trust and Estate Litigation

Bressler's Trust and Estate Litigation attorneys represent our clients in disputes involving claims of breach of fiduciary duty, fiduciary misconduct and fraud in estate or trust administration, financial elder abuse, will and trust challenges, adult guardianships and corporate/partnership divorce. Our clients include fiduciaries such as executors, trustees and guardians; business owners; and individual and charitable beneficiaries. We have the expertise to handle your litigation matter aggressively, efficiently and effectively.

Successful litigation is one tool to solve a private wealth controversy, but our attorneys do much more than litigate. We are strategic and creative in resolving disputes over private wealth and assets, and we recognize that these controversies frequently involve difficult family or other personal dynamics as well as financial issues. We counsel clients with strategies to avoid disputes during the estate planning process and while administering estates or trusts, and help clients avoid litigation when possible.
