John Guin is a Shareholder in the firm's Commercial Litigation and Construction Litigation practice groups. John represents businesses, officers, directors, and shareholders in complex construction and business disputes, including cases involving claims for breach of contract, fraud, and breach of fiduciary duty.

He also represents owners, contractors, subcontractors, and suppliers in matters involving delay and impact damages, design defects, bond claims, and related issues.

Prior to joining the firm, John worked at a commercial litigation boutique in Birmingham, Alabama, where he represented businesses and shareholders in a variety of cases—including derivative suits and class actions—that involved shareholder oppression, business breakups, securities fraud, insurance coverage, officer and director wrongdoing, and large contract controversies.
