Investment Advisers

Chamberlain Hrdlicka attorneys advise clients in all aspects of their investment advisory business, including both retail and institutional advisory businesses. We counsel our investment adviser clients on the formation and operation of many types of alternative investment vehicles, including hedge funds, fund-of-funds, venture capital and private equity funds, private real assets funds and other public and private pooled investment vehicles.

We also advise our clients on the complex federal and state regulatory, legal and compliance issues affecting investment advisers and their affiliates, including pay-to-play rules and lobbyist registration compliance matters.
