

KAREN SEBASKI QUOTED EXTENSIVELY ON SUPREME COURT'S ORAL ARGUMENTS IN RETURN MAIL INC. V. U.S. POSTAL SERVICE

02.21.2019

Karen commented on the highly-anticipated patent case, addressing the Supreme Court's opportunity to revisit in the context of AIA review proceedings a longstanding presumption of statutory interpretation that "person" does not include the government, and noting "the court signaled it could be ready to revisit the relative strength of the default rule." Read her comments on the case in Law.com, Law360, and World IP Review.

ATTORNEYS

Karen A. Sebaski

PRACTICE AREAS

Intellectual Property